THE MORGAN GARDNER BULKELEY HIGH SCHOOL

FOREWORD

of publishing a suitable Class Book, which serves as the greatest monument and reminder of our happy days of high school life. As we, the Class of 1929A, look back with heart-felt emotion on the glorious events of the past, we find it desirable to have an efficient and popular method of recalling these moments. And so it has been the aim and purpose of the editors to produce in permanent form these fond memories, hoping that this enterprise will be popular with, and appreciated by, the Class of 1929A.

We think it fitting at this time to express our sincere thanks to our faculty advisers, Miss Dorothy G. Potter and Mr. Elbert C. Weaver, and to our classmates, whose co-operation in the production of numerous contributions has brought about the success of the book.

Ruth V. Adams

"A quiet, gentle maid."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Art Club (3), (4); History-Civics Club (4); Biology Club (3), (4); Agora (4); "Chronicle" Circulation Board (3), (4). Alfred E. Burr School.

Ruth attends to her work in a slow, leisurely manner, taking things as they come. She is one of our quiet, industrious girls, but you can always depend on her when you need help. She is one of the French story writers of the "Dial", too. We are sure that you will be a success at anything you undertake, Ruth, because of your good qualities.

D. Elizabeth Anderson "Betty"

"Wiles and charms are female qualities."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4), (Class Representative 3); Biology Club (2), (8), (4), (Charter Member), (Secretary 2); Hearthstone (3), (4); Student Council (4); Honor Society, (Vice-President 4); Editorial Board of Class Book; Typewriting and Shorthand Awards. Never tardy; no demerits. Southwest School.

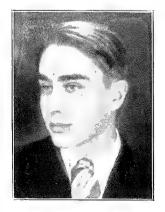

"Betty" is the most charming and the neatest girl of our class. She has been elected Class Representative of the Student Council, and is Vice-President of the Honor Society. We have her to thank for helping put out our Class Book. We notice that she wears two high school rings. We can account for one, but we would like to know whom the other one belongs to, "Betty."

Timothy W. Anderson "Tim"

"Silence is the mother of truth."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Rifle Club (4). West Middle School.

There's more to him than appears on the surface. While he is the quiet, energetic type of fellow, he is always a fine companion, as cheerful as his beaming smile. "Tim" surely was at home in the manual arts building. Perhaps he'll be back soon in the role of instructor.

Rose Avedisian

"A little girl, and yet I trow That the little girl can raise a row."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4), (Room Representative 4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Girls' Baseball (3); Girls' Basketball (4). A. E. Burr School.

Rose is a happy, friendly girl. She is popular with her classmates, and is always ready to lend a helping hand—and tongue to anyone who may need it. During our four years of high school, she has furnished us with a great deal of humor. When do we eat, Rose? Immediately!

Myrtle E. Bates "Myrt"

"Gather ye rosebuds while ye may."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (3), (4); A. A. (3), (4); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Glee Club (3), (4), (Secretary and Treasurer 4); Basketball. Lincoln School, Arlington, N. J. Homeopathic Hospital.

Myrtle is one of the late-comers to our class. Whenever we see a car speeding down the highway, we wonder if Myrtle is at the wheel. She can give good oral reports in English. Will you ever forget them, "Myrt"? We wish you luck.

Kathleen M. Begley "Kitty"

"Where there is laughter, there is she."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Hearthstone (2), (3), (4); Girls' Baseball (3). Alfred E. Burr School. St. Francis Hospital.

"Kitty" is one of the happy-go-lucky girls of the class. She says that she is shy—but oh, my! Whenever you see a crowd, you will know that Kitty's in the center. She surely does enjoy life, and we know that she will get a lot out of it.

Marion E. Byrd "Birdie"

"Rest not, life is sweeping by."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Choir (2), (8); French Club (3, (4). Alfred E. Burr School. Hartford Hospital Training School.

Marion is the most pessimistic girl in the class, but she is a good pal at all times. She is an excellent dancer, as we have learned from reliable sources. We have learned that she is to be a nurse, and we wish her the best of luck in her chosen work.

Nile E. Carlson "Charlie"

"Look on the bright side, or polish up the dark one."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (8), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Science-Tech Club; Dramatic Club. Never tardy. Wilson Street School.

Nile has "skirted" the city considerably in his "puddle jumper," which he built himself, for he is quite a mechanic. Nile also helped to construct the scenes in one of the plays given by the Dramatic Club, and much of the success of the play depended on his skill as a "room" builder.

Grace M. Carney "Sparky"

"Well dost thou thy talent display."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4), (Secretary-Treasurer 3), (Vice-President 4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Biology Club (2), (Secretary); Hearthstone (2); Dramatic Club (3), (4), (Librarian 4); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Student Council (2), (3), (4); Basketball; Baseball; "Torch" Prize; Shorthand Certificates. Southwest School. Alvienne.

"Sparky" is the most popular girl in our class. She has been very active in the Dramatic Club especially. They will lose an excellent actress when she graduates. She is our prophetess, too, and we know that she will use her originality in putting on a good piece of work. We expect to see you famous some day, "Sparky", and we hope you won't disappoint us.

Joseph J. Cerasole "Joe"

"The virtue lies in the struggle-not in the prize."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (3), (4), (President 4); Commercial Club (2), (3), (4), (Chairman 4; Class Marshal; Football (2), (3), (4), (Captain 4); All-City Football Team (2), (3), (4); Basketball (2), (3), (4), (Acting-Captain 2), (3); (Class Basketball Champion, All-City Basketball Team 3); Baseball (2), (3), (4); Track Squad. Never tardy. Washington Street School.

"Old Reliable Joe" was certainly an athlete during his years at Bulkeley. On the football field he covered himself with glory, and, incidentally, he covered his opponents with bruises. The ol' fight of "Joe's" was shown on the gridiron, the diamond, and the basketball court, to say nothing of his fiery addresses as president of the A. A. "Joe", as captain of the first Maroon team to defeat Weaver in any sport, deserves a tribute from every Bulkeleyite.

Dorothy E. Chipman "Chippy"

"Like a squirrel in a cage, I'm always in action."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (8), (4); Sketch Club (2); Hearthstone (2), (3), (Secretary 3); Poster Club (2), (3), (4), (President 3); Dramatic Club (3), (4); Art Club, (Secretary 4); Art Editor, "Chronicle" (3); Baseball (3); Honor Society (4). No demerits. Alfred E. Burr School. Boston Art

"Chippy" is one of our class dramatists. We have elected her historian because we were confident that she would produce a good piece of work. She has obligingly drawn many of the posters in advertising school events, and she will surely be missed. "Chippy" is going to continue the study of art, and we wish her success.

Newton F. Clark "Newt"

"He was the mildest manner'd man that ever scuttled ship or cut a throat."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (3), (4); Dramatic Club (3); Biology Club (3), (4), (President 4); Orchestra (2), (3), (4); Business Board of Class Book; Class Marshal. Southwest School. Pratt Institute.

"Newt" is a very likeable type of fellow, according to rumors that were traveling betwixt some feminine members of our class and overheard by us. That's very fine, "Newt." We hope your future "Boss" will feel the same way.

Laurent A. Cormier "Larry"

"It seemed all wrong to be so friendless, Then one day you came my way."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Rifle Club; Track (1), (2), Interclass Track; Football (2), (3); Basketball Manager (4), (B); Reception Committee. Never tardy. Alfred E. Burr School.

"Larry" was a seemingly quiet, conservative member of our class. "Larry," however, is quite efficient in track and basketball, according to our own observations. We hope you get into the "Olympics" for track, "Larry,"

Yevette E. Cormier "Y-vette"

"Have principles like oak."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (2), (3), (4), (Treasurer 2); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Commercial Club (3), (4); Agora (4); French Club (3); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Literary Club 2), (3), (4); "Chronicle" (3), (4); "Dial" (4); Basketball (2), (3), (Championship 2, 3, B); Typing and Shorthand Awards; Chairman Senior Night; Chairman Waitress Committee (2), (3), (4); Reception Committee. Never tardy. Alfred E. Burr School.

Yevette has been the star waitress for the boys for the past three years. They certainly will miss her. In her Sophomore and Junior years she helped the Girls' Basketball Team to win the championship of the school. We admire the pin you wear, Yevette, and surely would like to meet him.

Marshall W. Davenson "Marsh"—"Dave"—"Leftv"

"And when responding to the cheers he lightly doft his hat No stranger in the crowd could doubt, 'twas 'Lefty' at the bat."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Baseball (3), (4), (B); All-City First Baseman, 1928; Class Basketball (4); Basketball Squad (4); Pin and Ring Committee (4); Class Night Chairman. Southwest School. Yale University.

"Marsh" is a very popular member of our class, partly through his ability to "swat 'em" and partly through his fine personality. We noticed that "Marsh" was promised several A's if he hit a three-bagger the next time at bat; he always did the trick, but we don't know whether he got the A's or not.

Clarence Dean

"Bid me discourse, I will enchant thine ears."

B. H. S.—A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); Debating Club, (Vice-President 3); "Chronicle" (4), (Editor and Business Manager 4); "Dial", (Editor 4); Student Council, (Secretary 3); Honor Society, (President 4). Alfred E. Burr School. Amherst.

Clarence is probably the most prominent member of our class, because of his great ability as editor of any periodical, and because of his eloquence. Clarence is the first male salutatorian in the history of the school, and with this combination he should be extremely successful in later life.

Kenneth Eff "Kenny"

"Live and think."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); "Owlet-Chronicle" Business Boards (2); "Torch" Editorial Board (2); Choir (2), (3), (4); Junior Usher; French Club (3); Classical Club (3); Debating Club (3), (4); Honor Society (4); Class Basketball (4); Assistant Editor Class Book. Never tardy; no demerits. Alfred E. Burr School. City College of New York.

"Kenny" is a rare fellow, being a philosopher, a radio enthusiast, a chemistry shark, and a basketball player of note. His methods of philosophizing are usually in the humorous lines, as everyone who is acquainted with him well knows. "Kenny" is a sleepy fellow, and in chemistry we have noticed that he has fallen fast asleep several times. Despite this fault, his good points are numerous, and we know "Kenny" will be successful.

Albert S. Ekwall "Al"

"As bright as his hair."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (3), (4); Classical Club (3), (4); Rifle Club (4); Honor Society (4); Junior Usher; Business Manager of Class Book. Never tardy. Lawrence Street School. Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

"Al" is quite versatile, excelling in mathematics, chemistry, and Latin. He was quite ambitious, pursuing Latin during his entire course, and in addition belonging to that high-hat organization commonly known as the Classical Club. "Al" is a lover of the forest and camp life, just as his middle name, Sherwood, betrays. As business manager, "Al" has led his capable board in making this book a financial success.

Anna M. Fahey "Ann"

"Work and thou shalt have."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (3), (4); Commercial Club (3), (4); Hearthstone (3), (4); Agora (4); Honor Society (4); Typing and Shorthand Awards. No demerits. Alfred E. Burr School.

Anna has studied hard during her four years of high school. She has been rewarded by making the Honor List several times, and by being welcomed into the Honor Society in her Lower Senior year. We wish you success, "Ann."

Joseph C. Finnegan "Joe"

"Everyone has a fair turn to be as great as he pleases."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); History-Civics Club 4; Class Treasurer.

"Joe" is the richest member of our class this semester. How's that? That's easily explained. "Joe" is our reliable class treasurer. We hope you climb and become treasurer of one of our big insurance companies, "Joe."

Louis Fishkin "Louie"

"Education is the apprenticeship of life."

Washington Street School.

"Louie" is so quiet and conservative that many girls do not even know that he is in the class. Still water runs deep. We just know you will do something big when you get out into the wide world. We certainly wish you unlimited success, "Louie."

Constance I. Foberg

"The secret of success is constancy of purpose."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Biology Club, (Charter Member, 2, 3, 4); Agora (4); Hearthstone (4); Honor Society (4); Editorial Board of Class Book; Class Basketball (2), (3), (4), (Championship 2, 3, B and Bar); Baseball (1); Shorthand and Typewriting Awards. Never tardy. Southwest School.

"Connie" is the most loyal and the peppiest girl of our class. She played center on our basketball team for three years, and helped to win the championship for our class. She is one of the members of the Honor Society, and has done a good deal of work in editing the Class Book. She is always interested in New Britain, and seems to know a great deal about it. We wonder why, "Connie?"

Mary A. Fodi

"There's a little bit of bad in every good little girl."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Orchestra (2), (8), (4); Agora (8), (4); Commercial Club (4); Basketball (1), (2), (Championship 2, B); Typewriting and Shorthand Awards. Never tardy; no demerits. Lawrence Street School.

Mary is one of the smallest girls in our class, although the teachers find her mighty handy. She can do anything from cutting stencils to supervising intelligence tests. Mary is fond of athletics and is a distinguished figure at the games. She can also swing a nimble foot when it comes to dancing. Good luck to you, Mary.

Helen A. Fox "Foxy"

"Never worries over trouble, Life for her is one grand bubble."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (3), (4); Agora (4); Commercial Club (2), (3), (4); "Chronicle" (4); "Dial" (4); Typewriting and Shorthand Awards; Business Board of Class Book; Class Ring Committee. Never tardy. Alfred E. Burr School.

Helen is one of the good sports in our class. She has been elected to the business board of the Class Book. We know that she will help defray expenses for us, because she has business ability, which is shown by her high marks in bookkeeping. We wish you luck in the business world, Helen.

Antoinette R. Gane "Tony"

"The best part of school is in between classes."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (8), (4); Choir (2), (3), (4); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Art Club (3), (4); Hearthstone (3), (4); Agora (3), (4); Hisfory-Civics Club (3), (4); Baseball (8); Basketball (3), (Championship 3, B); Tennis Championship (2), (3); Business Board of Class Book. Washington Street School. New Britain Normal School.

"Tony" is a happy, carefree girl. She is quite an athlete, and shines particularly at tennis, in which she twice took the championship of the school. Keep up your good work, "Ann", and you will succeed.

Eugene M. Gane "Gene"

"Work is the weapon of honor."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (3), (4); History-Civics Club (3), (4); Dramatic Club (3), (4); Boys' Glee Club (2), (3), (4); Choir (2), (3); Rifle Club (3), (4); Boys' Debating Club (4); Assistant Editor of "The Torch"; Editorial Board of Class Book; Tennis (3), (4); Cheerleader (4); Junior Usher. Washington Street School. Trinity.

"Gene" is well known because of his very numerous activities in school affairs. He is the peppiest and most charming member of our class by popular vote. "Gene" is so busy and always has o much to attend to that we suggest to him a private secretary. We hope you need many of them when you practice law, "Gene."

Kathleen L. Gates "Kay"

"Happy and from care I'm free, Why aren't they all content like me?"

B. H. S.—Literary Club (2), (3); Biology Club (3); History-Civics Club (4). Never tardy. Hampton Grammar School. New Britain Normal School.

"Kay" is another one of the late-comers to our class. She didn't join us until our Upper Senior year, but we know she's here now. She is just one more of those bashful people who don't like to take up their library slips, but wait until asked for them. However, we all like her, and know her as a happy girl and a dependable friend.

George F. Gerich "Lou"

"Smooth runs the water where the brook is deep."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Rifle Club (3), (4). Washington Street School. Brown University.

George is a very retiring member of the class, but he is a person whom many would like as a friend. George is a really good-natured fellow and is the sort of boy who does not desert a friend in need. Here's hoping your admirable character will help you to succeed, George.

Helen E. Halliday

"She dotes on his very absence."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); Student Council (1); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); History-Civics Club (8), (4), (Vice-President 4). Chauncey Harris School. Skidmore.

Helen doesn't take a conspicuous part in class activities, as her interests center on one of the lower classmen. However, we know that she enjoys her rear seat in the session room, and her voice is often heard in the tumult there. We have learned that you are planning to study art and interior decorating at Skidmore, and hope some day to see you famous in your future work, Helen.

Dorothy H. Hansen "Dot"

"A gentle, quiet, lovable maid."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); History-Civics Club (8), (4), (Secretary). Alfred E. Burr School.

"Dot" is one of the prettiest and quietest girls in our class. She surely knows how to hold a crowd—by failing to hand in her library slips at 2 o'clock. She has a bright and happy heart, and always knows her lessons, too.

Grace K. Harney "Red"

"She runs, but not away from work or unpleasantness."

B. H. S.—A. A. (3), (4); Girls' League (3), (4); Agora (3), (4), (Executive Committee 4); Hearthstone (4). Lake School, New York City.

Grace has given us the impression that she is very quiet, but looks are often deceiving. We had proof that she could act, for she took the part of a judge in a play given by the Agora to entertain the Literary Club. We do not know what she intends to do after graduation, but she has our best wishes.

Philip A. Havey "Phil"

"Yet holds the eel of science by the tail."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (3), (4); Rifle Club (4); Junior Usher; Class Track Team, (Numerals 4); Class Basketball (4); School Basketball Team (4); "Dial", Science Editor (4); Class Book, Editor-in-Chief. Never tardy. Abraham Lincoln School, Bangor, Maine. University of Maine.

When Bulkeley was first opened, "Phil" sped all the way from Maine to attend. He stayed out of the limelight until his Senior year, when, at the interclass track meet, he leaped into popularity as high scorer. In school "Phil" pursued about every science course offered, but his headliner was astronomy. We all know success will greet him in whatever branch of science he chooses.

Joseph Herman "Joe"

"A man's size is no judge of his character."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); German Club (3), (4); Science-Tech Club (4); History-Civics Club (4); Basketball (2), (4); "Owlet" Business Board. Never tardy. Alfred E. Burr School. Brown University.

"Joe" certainly is the most ambitious of the Bulkeley clan. That valuable "do-it-now" habit, which is so useful in life, characterizes all his attainments. "Joe" has the distinction of having entered more essay-writing contests than his fellow students. His efforts have several times been crowned by honorable mention, and we're all sure that his future essay ventures will bring him success.

Clifford O. Hills "Cliff"

"A little fun, to match the sorrow Of each day's growing—and so, good-morrow."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (8), (4); Science-Tech Club (3); Commercial Club (3); Junior Usher; Cheerleader. Alfred E. Burr School, University of Maryland.

"Cliff", or "Hillsy" as Mr. "Babe" Allen, our well-known gym instructor, calls him, is known well for his black face comedy skit, which was especially well presented on our Senior-Junior Night. "Cliff" is also our worthy testator. He tells us our will is to be presented in an absolutely new manner. We know it will be good and can hardly wait until Class Night.

Maurice L. Johnson "Moey"

"Cheerfulness is an offshoot of goodness and of wisdom."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Rifle Club (3), (4), (Vice-President, Rifle Team No. 1, Cup and Medal for Proficiency in Markmanship); Junior Orchestra; Senior Orchestra. Never tardy. Alfred E. Burr School. Princeton.

"Moey" enjoys school for three reasons, and girls are all three of them. Even though this is one of "Moey's" weaknesses, he has many strong characteristics, and among them is a fine personality, of which everyone who knows him is well aware. We know that through his cheerfulness he will be very successful in the world.

Leslie E. Jordan "Les"

"O this learning, what a thing it is!"

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Inter-Class Track Team; Classical Club. Washington Street School.

Who is that unknown athlete of ours? Well, if it isn't you, "Les"! The girls don't know "Les," but do you boys? He is certainly a friend who can be trusted when our backs are turned. Unlimited success to you, old man.

John J. Kielb "Johnnie"

"And it will discourse most eloquent music."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4).

"Johnnie" is the quietest member of our class, and is seen but not heard, except when he tickles those ivories, what? He is, too, a friend who can be depended upon, and we all know that still waters run deep. We all wish you the best of luck for the future, "Johnnie."

Pilune A. Kirkorian "Phil"

"A cheery word, a cheery smile, That's what makes life worth while."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (8), (4); Hearthstone (2), (3), (4), (Vice-President 4, President 4); Commercial Club (3), (4); Agora (4); Typing and Shorthand Awards. Alfred E. Burr School.

Pilune adds a good deal of cheerfulness to our classroom with her ready wit and humor. She is a good student, too, and we know that she can do a little acting, because she proved it to us in English. When you are out in the world, don't forget the good times you used to have here, Pilune.

Bernard W. Kofsky "Bernie"

"Everlasting as the river is his swift flow of talk."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (8), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Dramatic Club (8), (4); Debating Club (3); Class Orator. Never tardy; no demerits. Lawrence Street School. Columbia University.

"Bernie's" speaking ability was clearly demonstrated in several fields. He played prominent parts in three plays, was a member of the victorious debating team, and spoke in our assembly hall during the Armistice Day program, and at our Class Night. He always did his work, but was not a "grind." His good nature and prowess in so many lines assure his success in life.

Roland T. Lavoie "Rolly"

"A pleasing countenance is no slight advantage."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Commercial Club (1), (2); Science-Tech Club (3); Rifle Team (4); Track Team (2). Alfred E. Burr School. Boston University.

Well, girls, here he is! The best-looking boy in the class! "Rolly" certainly gets in with the girls, which is proved by the fact that three or four are always talking to him. We also understand "Rolly" is a soda-jerker of note.

Robert E. Lee "Chubby"

"What's in a name?"

.B. H. S.—Football; Basketball. St. Peter's Parochial School. Norwich University.

"Chubby" is already so famous a figure in national and world history that we hardly need spend our valuable time telling you all about him. "Chubby" is a plugging sort of fellow, it seems; quiet but reliable. We are sure he will follow the steps of his namesake and achieve great success.

Manuel A. London "Mannie"

"Not stepping o'er the bounds of modesty."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (3), (4); A. A. (3), (4); Rifle Club (3), (4), (President 3, 4); Dramatic Club (4). Never tardy. Goddard Junior High School. Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Mannie" is a quiet member of our class, but when he gets outside the school, it is a different story. He has a Chevrolet, and by aid of this vehicle he has won many friends, especially when it comes to football games. Good luck, "Mannie."

Richard Mattia

"O, you shall see him laugh till his face Be like a wet cloak ill laid up."

B. H. S .- Lawrence Street School.

"Dick" is not a noisy person, except when he laughs, and then isn't it catching? Ask Mr. Wilson whether he remembers the haa, baa, black sheep of our math. class. We do hope that you will continue with your education, "Dick."

Thomas F. McGuinness "Tommy"

"The hand that follows intellect can achieve."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Student Council, (Secretary 4); Junior Usher; Honor Society, (Secretary 4); Football. Never tardy. Alfred E. Burr School.

Introducing the first male valedictorian in the history of Bulkeley High! "Tommy" is not only what the above quotation signifies, but he is also an athlete of note. ""Tommy" is good in all branches of study, but he is most noted for his ability to delve deep into hard math. problems, from which he always emerged victorious over the "sticky" ones. We hope, "Tommy," that you solve the great problem of Life as easily as you did the math. problems.

Roy F. Nielsen

"Let me have audience for a word or two."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (8), (4). Alfred E. Burr School. Worcester Tech.

Roy is a very charming fellow, and by virtue of this quality has gained many friends. He also has great ability to talk, and this is probably one of the reasons he was chosen as class prophet.

Anna E. Orde

"Sweet music-the language of the gods."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (8), (4), (Room Representative); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Biology Club (3), (4); Hearthstone (2), (3), (4), (Treasurer 3); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Choir (2), (3), (4); Glee Club (2), (3), (4). Alfred E. Burr School.

"Ann" has a certain quality that lots of us wish we had, but haven't. That "quality" is the power of making friends wherever she goes. "Ann" is always willing to help out in any entertainment by singing, and whenever we see her name on a program we know we shall get our money's worth. Nothing but the best of luck to you always, "Ann."

Corin L. Oslund "Connie"

"I'm glad to be living: Aren't you?"

B. H. S.—Girls' League (2), (3), (4); A. A. (2), (8); Choir (2), (3), (4); Glee Club (2), (3), (4); Typewriting and Shorthand Awards. Washington Street School.

Corin is one of the girls who thought so much of our class that she left her own in order to graduate with us. Corin always gives the impression that she never wastes time, for whenever we see her she is always in a hurry, and she is always busy, too. We know that she is a cheerful person and one easy to get along with.

Emily A. Parker "Emmy"

"A face with gladness overspread Soft smiles, by human kindness bred."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Agora (4); Commercial Club (2), (3); Typing Certificates. Lawrence Street School.

We wonder whether anyone has ever seen Emily with a scowl on her face—we haven't. We know that her optimistic way of looking at things is going to help her succeed in life. Always reliable and a good friend to all—that's Emily.

Evelyn V. Patton "Evie"

"Refined, gentle, quiet and kind, To be like her we wouldn't mind."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Biology Club (3), (Charter Member); Classical Club 4); Honor Society (4); Class Essayist. New Park Avenue School. Hartford Hospital Training School.

Evelyn is one of the most refined girls in our class, and she surely is an ideal classmate. She has been elected essayist, which proves that, although she is rather quiet, she is well liked. We know that you will make a wonderful nurse, Evelyn, and we wish you success.

Lillian E. Pezzento "Lily"

"A gentle nature, kind to all alike."

B. H. S.—A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Girls' League (2), (8), (4); Typing and Shorthand Certificates. Brown School.

Lillian is a quiet girl and a true sport. She is very good at stenography, and we know that she is going to make an efficient stenographer for someone. Lillian is bound to make many friends wherever she goes, and we hope that her future associates will like her as well as does everyone in the Class of 1929A.

Isabel Pinto

"A smile that no cloud can o'ercast, A girl that is game to the last."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Hearthstone (4), (President); Art Club (3); Girls' Leaders' Corps (4); "Torch" Board. Never tardy. Alfred E. Burr School. Dr. Arnold's School of Physical Education.

Isabel is the type of girl who will smile when things go wrong. She has many attributes: wit, pep, popularity, and last but not least, ability in her studies. We know that she can preside over meetings to perfection because we have witnessed it ourselves. The best of luck, Isabel.

Jared A. Pratt "Jerry"

"Better not be at all than not be noble."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Commercial Club (2), (8), (4), (Secretary 3); History-Civics Club (4); Student Council (1), (2), (3), (President 2, 3); Orchestra (2), (3), (4); Football (2), (8), (4); Tennis (4). Washington Street School. United States Coast Guard Academy.

"Jerry" is one of the reasons why girls remain in school, but this popularity is rivaled among the stronger sex. "Jerry" is one of our football heroes, and this fact, in addition to his personality, places him in a high position among his fellow-students.

Margaret S. Race "Peg"

"Lo! appeareth our poetess."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (3), (4); A. A. (3), (4). Northfield School, New Jersey.

"Peg" was rather a late-comer to our class, and it took us some time to find out her poetic ability. We are greatly indebted to her for our class poem and song. Her hobby is writing poetry. Perhaps we have a genius in our midst. We hope so.

Harold D. Radomski "Pro"

"Our whole life is like a play."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (8), (4); Golf (1), (2), (3), (4), (Captain 4); Football; Interclass Basketball Squad (1), (2), (3). Washington Street School. Georgetown University.

"Pro" is one of our "big-shots", and is also a member of "our gang" in the back of Room 236. "Pro" has one great weak spot, namely, girls. Despite this characteristic, he is extremely popular with his own sex, and ought to be successful in life.

Frederick E. Recknagel "Rex"

"A little nonsense now and then Is relished by the wisest men."

B. H. S. Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Commercial Club (1), (2); History-Civics Club (4). Never tardy. Chauncey Harris School.

Well, here he is! The predominating and central figure of the famous group in the back of Room 236! "Rex" has no parallel so far as jest is concerned, and wouldn't he be a popular jester for a king of the middle ages? "Rex" can settle down to serious things when he wants to, though, and we know he will be successful.

Aida Repetto "We"

"Music hath charms."

B. H. S.—Orchestra (1), (2), (Concertmaster); Inter-High Orchestra (4); Dramatic Club (3), (4), (Librarian); Choir (4); Glee Club (4); French Club (4); Art Club (4). Never tardy. Brown Street School.

Aida was a violinist of great repute in the school orchestra. In other words, she wiggled a wicked bow. However, she didn't spend all her time on music, for we often saw her studying in the session room after 2 o'clock. We wish you luck, Aida.

Anna L. Ryder

"Well-timed silence has more eloquence than speech."

B. H. S.—Glee Club (2), (3); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); Typing Awards. Northeast School.

Anna is not a prominent member of our class, but she is a good friend to all. We think that she is cheerful most of the time, too, for we have never heard her complain. She is taking the Stenographic course and we hope that she will enjoy her future work.

Michael J. San Giacomo "Mike"

"Style is the dress of thought."

B. H. S.—A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Boys' Club (2), (3), (4). Alfred E. Burr School. Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

"Mike" surely is the class sheik. We have yet to learn the name of his haberdasher, but the reason for his personal attractiveness is that he is a member of the tonsorial ($4 word for barber) union. We wish him all success in his barber shop, at the university, and last but not least, in the poolroom.

Robert N. Schuster "Bob"

"Come, knit hands, and beat the ground In a light fantastic round."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Glee Club (1), (3), (4), (Secretary and Treasurer); Football (3), (4). Never absent; never tardy. Southwest School. Trinity College.

"Bob" was chosen as our best dancer, and well he deserves that praise, for he certainly can trip it as he goes. "Bob" is a member of "Our Gang" which so predominated in Room 236, and was sometimes in the midst of the consultations that arose in this famous body of pupils, so woefully ended by the frequent showers of "little slips of paper" issued by Mr. Costello.

Mary R. Stavola "May"

"Thy smile can make a summer Where darkness else would be."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3); A. A. (1), (2), (8), (4); Glee Club (1), (2), (3), (4); Choir (2), (3), (4); Commercial Club (2), (3), (4); Biology Club (3); "Torch" Board (4). Never tardy. St. Peter's School. Northeast Conservatory of Music.

Mary is completing her high school career in three and one-half years, which shows that she must like our class pretty well. Mary shows her talent for playing the piano by accompanying Aida. How's our football hero, Mary?

Thomas Taksar "Thick"

"What should a man do, but be merry?"

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Science-Tech Club (2); Commercial Club (4); Football (2), (3), (4). Southwest School. Springfield College.

"Tommy" is a fellow who never worries over his studies, and always gives them a back-seat to football. Speaking of football, we think it is wise to say that "Tommy" is a star, and we sincerely hope that he will be as successful in life as in football.

Alice M. Tracey "Al"

"She is a jolly good sport in everything."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4), (Representative); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Agora (3); Commercial Club (2), (3); Hearthstone (3), (4); Biology Club (3); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Choir (2), (3), (4); Junior Orchestra (8); Baseball (3); Baskeball (3), (B); Color and Motto Committee. No demerits. Alfred E. Burr School.

Alice is another of our quiet girls, but she seems to have more or less of a crowd with her all the time. She is a well-known member of the Leaders, and surely can call a gym class to order. We know that she had a "drag" with a certain math. teacher. How about it, Alice? Best of luck to you always.

Evelyn E. Treadwell "Ev"

"She walks in beauty, like the night Of cloudless climes and starry skies."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); History-Civics Club (4), (Executive Committee). Alfred E. Burr School.

Evelyn is a quiet, inconspicuous girl. We don't think that many students know the real Evelyn. We didn't really know her ourselves until we had occasion to meet her two years ago, and discovered that she is a mighty good sport. We wish you the best of luck, Evelyn.

Elizabeth M. Trottier "Betty"

"A gracious, simple, truthful girl."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Hearthstone (3), (4); Girls' Leaders' Corps (3), (4); Baseball; Typing and Shorthand Awards. Alfred E. Burr School.

"Betty" has been one of the members who followed the class through the four years of high school life. She ranks high among the typists of the class, and has won many awards in it. She belongs to the Leaders, and we hope that she doesn't give many demerits for wearing two pair of stockings. The best wishes of the Class of 1929A are with you, "Betty."

Barbara J. Truman "Bob"

"That she does her work the teachers know, That she is a friend—we know."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4), (Class Representative 4); A. A. (2), (3), (4); Literary Club (2), (3); French Club (3), (4); Classical Club (2), (3), (4); Girls' Leaders' Corps; Honor Society (4); Editorial Board of Class Book. Never tardy. Washington Street School. Middlebury College.

"Bob" is one of our brightest students. She is the most capable girls of our class. One can often see an intellectual crowd gathered around her desk. She has made the Honor Roll several marking periods, has received membership in the Honor Society, and is a member of the editorial board of our Class Book. "Bob" is going to college and we know that she will be a success.

Rosalie Vasquez "Helen"

"Calm and serene as a summer morn."

B. H. S.—Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4). Alfred E. Burr School. New Britain Normal School.

We think that Rosalie believes in the old saying, "Silence is golden," for we very seldom hear her voice her thoughts. However, we know that she can do it, as we've had proof of it in English. We know that you will make a good teacher, Rosalie, and we wish you success.

Roberta F. Vose "Bobby"

"Character secures respect."

B. H. S.—A. A. (2), (3), (4); Girls' League (2), (3), (4); Biology Club (3), (4); History-Civics Club (4); Class Treasurer. Attleboro Grammar School. Hartford Hospital Training School.

"Bobby" has been with us only two years, but we know that she feels at home by this time. We have learned that she is going to train for a nurse, and we are sure that the patients will recuperate rapidly under her care. Success to you, "Bob."

Dotha E. Warner "Dodie"

B. H. S.—A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); Basketball (1); Typewriting Awards. Southwest School. College of Classical Arts and Letters at Boston University.

Dotha is a quiet, unassuming girl, but we have found her to be a true classmate during our four years of high school. She shows staunch school spirit and class loyalty by coming in from West Hartford every morning. Her unfailing good nature has made her well liked, and we wish her the success she so justly deserves.

James C. Wike "Jimmie"

"Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club (2), (3); A. A. (1), (2), (8), (4); Football (4). Alfred E. Burr School. Cornell.

"Jimmie" is well-known because of his modesty, a characteristic not very common among Upper Seniors. "Jimmie" is a good athlete and a good sport, and when these characteristics are combined with the first one, a very rare fellow is the result.

Christopher T. Wren "Mickey"

"Wisely and slow; they stumble that run fast."

B. H. S.—A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Boys' Club (2), (3); Student Council (1). Immaculate Conception School. Grove City College.

"Mickey" is the calm, patient, never-in-a-hurry sort of fellow. A sport-lover he is, but, strange to say, he is more content to be on the bench as a spectator than to take an active part in the proceedings. He has managerial and coaching propensities, so don't be surprised if the name "Chris" Wren reaches the popularity of John J. McGraw.

Isadore Zingeser "Izzy"

"What sweet delight a quiet life affords."

B. H. S.—Boys' Club  $(1)_{4}$  (2), (3), (4); A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4). Chauncey Harris School.

Here is a fellow who makes more dough than any other member in the class, for he is a baker par-excellence. He is a mysterious person, for he disappears after the third period, and we don't see him the rest of the day.

Burness E. Zschernig "Bunny"

"Her gesture, motion, and her smile Her wit, her voice, our hearts beguile."

B. H. S.—A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); Charter Member Biology Club (2), (3); Shorthand and Typing Awards. New Park Avenue School.

Burness is the most attractive girl in the class. She can do anything from waiting on table to dancing. She has a great deal of school spirit, which is shown by her attendance at the games and dances. Burness is our testatrix, and she has written a binding will.

Helen J. Sullivan "El"

"A quiet conscience makes one serene."

B. H. S.—A. A. (1), (2), (3), (4); Girls' League (1), (2), (3), (4); Hearthstone (4); Typing and Shorthand Awards. Alfred E. Burr School.

Did you ever hear Helen say a word while she was in class? No, neither did we. She is certainly one of those "seen but not heard" girls. In spite of this, her pleasant ways have won her many friends. Our best wishes for the future are with you, Helen.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

Parents, Teachers, and Friends:

This, the last informal gathering of the Class of 1929A, marks the close of our social activities as students at the Bulkeley High School.

Our purpose this evening is to present a cheerful class night program, hoping thereby to entertain our guests and to leave in our own minds many happy, lingering memories. The program which we have prepared will flash before us in review the high lights of our not too inglorious four years; it will disclose a representative array of talent—vocal, instrumental, and oratorical—and through the gift of our seers it will afford us glimpses of a more or less rosy future.

Surely we could not have spent these last four years of our lives more advantageously or more pleasantly, and it is indeed with a feeling of genuine regret that we prepare to take our departure from this school.

Ever since we entered high school we have been aware of the fact that there is no royal road to learning. Thanks, however, to our teachers and parents, we have been given the necessary start in the right direction, and we appreciate all that has been done for us. Let me now, in behalf of my classmates, welcome each and every one of you to our Class Night Exercises.

MARSHALL W. DAVENSON.

MORGAN GARDNER BULKELEY

Y fellow classmates and I have attended the Morgan Gardner Bulkeley High School since its opening in September, 1926. We have watched it grow and have seen it take its place in the community; but, I am afraid, we have given scant thought to the life and career of the man whose name is engraved over the portals of our school. Morgan

Gardner Bulkeley was a man of great power and influence, which he used to the best of advantage for his country and his fellow citizens. On December 26, 1837, in East Haddam, Conn., this virile and typical American was born. The blood of the pioneers who made America flowed in his veins. His forebears were of the stock who conquered a new country, cleared a wilderness, and opened vast treasuries of forest, soil, and mine. From these ancestors he inherited qualities which were destined to raise him to a high place in business, in politics, and in community life.

Morgan G. Bulkeley was yet a young man of twenty-four when the Civil War began, but he had been a worker and a producer for seven years and was well along the road to success. In 1851 he made his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., and began his business career in a mercantile house, rising in seven years from errand boy to partner. At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in the Thirteenth New York Regiment and served with notable ability. Upon the death of his father, Eliphalet Adams Bulkeley, in 1872, young Bulkeley returned to Hartford, and became affiliated with the Ætna Life Insurance Company, the organization of which his father had been the first president from 1853 until the time of his death.

Morgan G. Bulkeley immediately took up the many business interests that had engaged the attention of his father, and under his guidance as president of the organizations, the Ætna companies were extended to include practically every form of insurance coverage. Despite his growing business interest Mr. Bulkeley always found time to take a prominent part in the affairs of his city, state, and nation. After having served at various times as Councilman and Alderman of the City of Hartford, he became its Mayor in 1880, and remained in that responsible position for a term of eight years. In 1888 the Republicans nominated him by acclamation for governor. He held this office for two terms, during which time he reformed the chaotic conditions of Connecticut's politics. His strong determination served him in good stead when once during his stay at the State Capitol he used a crowbar to gain entrance into a room from which he had been barred by his political enemies. When appropriations were tied up on account of lack of state funds to meet obligations, Governor Bulkeley arranged to finance the state by a loan floated by the Ætna Life Insurance Company. This is just one example of his business ability.

In 1905 Mr. Bulkeley was elected United States Senator for Connecticut, and for six years represented the state in the upper house of Congress, where he became one of the most frequently consulted members of the Senate. Upon leaving the Senate in 1911, he devoted himself more and more to interests concerned with civic improvement and community advancement, as well as with national welfare. Upon the issuance of the Liberty Loans during the World War, Mr. Bulkeley contributed his plan of subscribing for Liberty Bonds on a monthly payment plan. This plan was open to all employees of the Ætna Companies throughout the land, and was one of the most patriotic and efficient plans set forth by any individual American citizen during those war-torn days. Senator Bulkeley always took a keen interest in patriotic societies, and held many offices in such organizations as the Grand Army of the Republic and the Mayflower Society.

In the course of these busy years, he had received honorary degrees from two of Connecticut's most illustrious colleges. In 1889 Yale University gave him the degree of Master of Arts, and in 1917 Trinity College conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws. Morgan Bulkeley was also an ardent sportsman, being the first president of the National Baseball League. So, through all his life-span of eighty-five years, he was a man who loved to serve and aid, to the best of his ability, his city, state, and country. When we learn that the Association of Life Insurance Presidents adopted a resolution, at the time of his death on November 6, 1922, which said in part that he was "always keenly responsive to the commands of good citizenship, void of cant and hypocrisy, sensitive to the requirements of friendship", we know that Morgan Gardner Bulkeley was a great and considerate man.

Therefore, we, as members of the graduating class of the school which bears the name of Morgan Gardner Bulkeley, should try to attain the ideals and moral standards of a man who was deemed great enough by his fellow citizens to have a high school named in his honor, and we should treasure the memories of our high school days because they have been associated with the name of a tolerant and liberal-minded man who stood for right and truth.

BERNARD KOFSKY.

ESSAY

THIS MAGICAL AGE

FEW weeks ago some of us may have read in our newspapers of the excitement caused in a little town in Pennsylvania by the attempted murder of an aged farmer. His assailants, it seems, were trying to secure a lock of the victim's hair, which they wanted to bury eight feet in the ground in order to remove a curse that they believed had been put upon them by the unfortunate man. We were incredulous. Was it possible that in this enlightened age anyone could be so ignorant as to believe in witch-craft and magic? Stories of magic and magicians are for children, who, if they are not too old, may be thrilled by the tale of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp, or by the magic carpet on which one could be transported with amazing speed to the most distant place. Even we older people may enjoy seeing the so-called magicians on the vaudeville stage, but while we are amused by their little acts, we realize that there is some trick to it all.

And yet, if we stop to reflect, we shall discover that some of the most vivid imaginings of the ancients have become realities today, and that we have among us magicians whose achievements frequently surpass the wildest flights of fancy of the old myth makers. Only the fact that the present generation has been brought up in a world where the marvels of science are taken as a matter of course prevents its appreciating the miraculous nature of modern invention.

We are all Aladdins these days. We have no wonderful lamp to rub, but by pressing a little button we can summon and make work for us forces more powerful than the Genie who slaved so willingly for Aladdin. And what is the airplane which spans a continent between dawn and dark but the magic carpet almost literally realized?

In the old stories a magician would wave his wand over a few pebbles and miraculously change them to sparkling diamonds and pearls. In this wonderful age, in almost the same magical way, a wizard in a laboratory waves his chemical wand over a lump of common field mud, and it becomes the shining aluminum kettle which the housewife uses for her daily tasks.

We have always thought of the little silkworm as a magician, on account of the way he changes mulberry leaves into silk. But today, even he has a rival in the chemist who can take a block of wood and change it to a flimsy silk fabric. When we go into a store to buy a pair of rayon curtains, we find it hard to realize that the silky fabric which we select was once a tree in a forest.

We read in the old fairy tales of crystal-gazers, seers who focused their attention on a gleaming sphere of glass, in whose depths they saw revealed events taking place a thousand miles away. Today in a laboratory, a man sits before a little instrument and is enabled to visualize the destruction wrought by an earthquake on the other side of the world, though not a murmur from the catastrophe has reached his ears. And the time is surely coming when we shall be able to sit before a magic mirror in the comfortable atmosphere of our own homes, and really see an image of what is actually taking place in some far distant land. In fact, television in a crude form has already arrived.

Even the talking machine, old-fashioned as it sometimes seems in comparison with the radio, has by no means been left behind in the race, for through the wizardry of modern science new recording mechanisms have been developed which in such devices as the talking movie will make it possible for our descendants not only to see the forms but actually to hear the voices of the dead.

In view of these achievements can we say that any prediction is too absurd? Mark Twain once told a graduating class of the West Middle School that although Methuselah was 969 years old when he died, his life, measured in terms of experience, was nowhere nearly so long as our short lives. "You boys and girls," he said, "in the next twenty years will live longer than Methuselah lived in over nine centuries." This is truly a magical age, but all signs point to greater wonders yet to come. We are supermen today; tomorrow we may be gods.

EVELYN PATTON.

SHIPS

A white speck on the sea, A ship from foreign shore, Is sailing tranquilly As oft she has before.

She's sailed her quiet way Through most delightful climes; She's crunched through with delay The north seas many times.

She's sailing home to sail no more, For other ships will take her place, Which sail more fast than those of yore But do not have the sail ship's grace.

Our ship, the Class of '29A, Is sailing into harbor, too: We will launch out a larger way, Our various cruises to pursue.

HISTORY

Setting—Thunder and Lightning; the scene as war-like as possible.

Characters—Xzynu and Xzyunkj, two Martians.

HE scene opens showing the two busily reading the old papers. After a pause, the two characters begin to talk in a desultory way about nothing in particular: it does not even have to be about anything in particular, and but barely audible to the audience. They are dressed in a type of costume that carries out the futuristic idea, but at the same time carries with it a war-like note. After a pause:

Xzynu—"Look, Xzunkj, here's some of Bulkeley's old newspapers telling about the class that graduated in January, 1929. From these reports it must have been some class. What do you think?"

Xzunkj (looking up from his paper)—"Yes! Here's another. That class had a better record than any class which ever graduated from that school. In 1925, four hundred members entered the Hartford High School as Freshmen. They weren't green, as most pupils entering high school are. They knew their stuff! The upper classmen never put anything over on them. Of course, as Freshmen, they were not allowed to join any of the clubs, but I don't suppose they would have cared to join those clubs, anyway."

Xzynu (looking up and yawning)—"It doesn't tell much of the one and one-half years at H. P. H. S. Let's skip over them. The better element of the class, those living in the south end of the city, finally sent in a petition to the city authorities demanding that a new high school be built to include only the best part of the Class of 1929A. The authorities acted upon this request immediately. That school, the now famous Morgan Gardner Bulkeley High School, was ready in September, 1926. About nine hundred pupils in the southern part of the city bade a joyous good-bye to Hartford High and entered Bulkeley. One hundred fifty-seven of these were of the Class of 1929A. That's funny, having a city on the earth divided like our own city up here."

Xzunkj—"By thunder and lightning! Maroon and white were chosen as their school colors, because of their obvious superiority to the Blue and White of H. P. H. S. and the Green and White of Weaver. Ah! Ha! Another rival! It's more distinguished, anyway. All common schools down there, like Yale and Dartmouth, have blue or green."

Xzynu—"It didn't take long for Bulkeley to get going. Their football team trimmed East Hartford the first year. That's the game in which 'Pat' Urricchio entered the Hall of Fame, whatever that is. He scored the touchdown and kicked the point after the touchdown. 'Joe' Cerasole showed how a lineman should disport himself. He played basketball and baseball that year, too. Say, we ought to have that boy up here."

Xzunkj—"Yes! Look in this paper! It tells here of all the new clubs being organized. The Boys' Club, Girls' League, Hearthstone, Science-Tech, A. A., and the Dramatic Club. That was the club! The first important play it gave was "The First Year.' Grace Carney of the Class of 1929A played the leading part, and 'Dot' Chipman, playing the part of Hattie, the maid, to perfection, ably assisted her."

Xzynu—"Um! And there seems to be a lot about Yevette Cormier in The Torch, too. That's the newspaper, you know. Pretty good, isn't it?"

Xzunkj—"Yes! See a lot about her. Here's a summary of the football season of 1927: 'Six victories and two defeats, these being inflicted by Weaver and Hartford High by close scores. Urricchio captains successful team.' 'Cerasole stars this year also.' Why in the universe didn't they beat Weaver? (Talking very fast.) The basketball and baseball seasons that year were successful, too. Hartford High was defeated twice in baseball. Yeh! Rah! Rah!"

Xzynu—"Xzunkj, will you please stop talking so much about sports? I want to hear more about this very interesting class."

Xzunkj—"What do you want? Aren't football and baseball and basketball the most important things in school, anyway?"

Xzynu—"I know they are up here, Xzunkj, but look at all the other things that they have down there. The football and baseball teams can't be as important as the clubs, surely! (reading) 'The Commercial Club was organized that year with Mr. Cameron as faculty advisor.' Wonder what's that for?"

Xzunkj—"How can I tell? Gee! You ask such foolish questions. How should I know? (pause) ''Joe' Cerasole, 1929A, elected as President of the A. A. Prominent member of his class. The only three-letter man in the school.' Told you so! We ought to have him up here."

Xzynu (reading)—"'Student Council persuades the High School Committee to allow the basketball games to be played in the evening. Dancing to follow every game.' That was an important concession. We'll have to suggest that, too."

Xzunkj---"Here's a review of the football season of 1928, the last before the Class of 1929A graduated."

Xzynu—"There you go again!"

Xzunkj—"Will you keep still! (reading) 'Joe' Cerasole leads Bulkeley to most successful season in its short history. Among the others, Weaver, the great rival, is defeated 6 to 0—the first time Weaver has been beaten in any sport. Cerasole realizes great ambition, to beat Weaver. Pratt, Taksar, members of the Class of 1929A, star throughout the season'."

Xzynu—"Boy, they did it! 'Clarence Dean becomes pioneer. Organizes a new magazine, The Bulkeley Dial. Bulkeley breaks away from Chronicle.' Dean is also a member of the Class of 1929A."

Xzunkj—"Smart fellow, this Dean. It tells here of the Dramatic Club's giving another play, 'The Successful Calamity.' I'd like to have been on hand to see some of those plays. This sure is some class."

Xzynu—"Class of 1929A graduates from Bulkeley High School in a blaze of glory. Especially 'Tommy' McGuinness; here's his picture. He's valedictorian. Doesn't look so smart, does he? Looks like a regular fellow."

Xzunkj—"Well, I must be going. I have to make a report concerning the bridge that is being completed this week, you know, from Mars to the Earth."

Xzynu—"Yes, I've heard about it. Remember, when it's finished, I'm the first to visit Bulkeley! Good-bye!"

DOROTHY CHIPMAN,
THOMAS McGUINNESS.

GOODBYE, BULKELEY HIGH

PROPILECY

PROPHECY

Characters-Rajah and Nepal.

Setting—Crystal-gazers' tent in Arabia. Servant enters and presents Rajah with a letter.

AJAH—This is from the Class of 1929A of the Bulkeley High School, requesting that we foretell the fate of its students.

(After looking into the crystal and conversing in Arabic.) Rajah—"I fear it is impossible to do it; I can see nothing."

Nepal—"Wait! Wait! There is something here, I see something. It's a little cloudy. Ah! now it's clearing up. I can see clouds of smoke, debris, hunks of concrete falling to the earth. There's Fred Recknagel, president of the Hartford Wrecking Company, demolishing the Weaver Goal Post after another victory for Coach Cerasole's men. He's using bombs furnished by the Carlson, Pinto Company. This company has just been made famous by inventing the new hot air Cormier gas."

Rajah—"He's hopping into his flivver airplane and now he's landing at Gerich & Mattia's landing field. Two officers of the law, Johnson and Eff, seem to be on his trail. They're heading for New York. He drops from a parachute and escapes into Evelyn Treadwell's theatre during the Repetto-Stavola act."

Nepal—"He is not noticed because some of the people are walking out to relieve their pent-up emotions. Now everybody is applauding Kofsky's news reel showing the Olympic Finals with 'Tony' Gane breaking the world's swimming record by half a second, and Philip Havey breaking the record for the 100-yard dash."

Rajah—"There is a committee composed of Ruth Adams, Mary Fodi, Dotha Warner, and Margaret Race from the Anti-Flying Bug Association. They are presenting Marion Byrd with a medal. This young aviatrix has just made a successful flight to the South Pole. Lillian Pezzento accompanied her on the trip. Here we have 'Mike' San Giacomo, successor to Mussolini, illustrating how he keeps fit riding on his hobby broncho devised by Timothy Anderson. What's this I see before me?"

Nepal—"It's a courtroom. Looks as if something exciting is going to happen. There's a big crowd piling in. The judge is calling for order. Why, that's Judge Ekwall. Anna Fahey is his stenographer. The next case is called for."

Rajah—"Eugene Gane, an absent-minded naturalist, claims that one of his valuable butterflies flew out of a window in his laboratory and landed on Manuel London's newly-painted car, mistaking it for a rose. The butterfly died immediately from the turpentine in the Jordan Paint which was used on the car. Gane declares that the insect was worth at least $10,000 and is suing London for that amount. Well, what's Louis Fishkin doing there?"

Nepal—"He is representing Rosalie Vasquez in the suit again Zingeser's Bakery Shop. He is now taking the stand. Dorothy Hansen and Kathleen Gates are working in the Bakery Shop biting holes in doughnuts. Miss Vasquez claims that Miss Hansen left her false teeth in one of the doughnuts and she would have choked had it not been for the able assistance of Dr. Barbara Truman, who happened to be nearby."

Rajah—"Here comes Kathleen Begley weeping as though her heart would break. She is seeking redress from her husband, who was found at Mamzelle Chipman's fashion show admiring Pilune Kirkorian. Two other famous Chipman models, Rose Avedisian and Betty Trottier, are witnesses. 'Joe' Finnegan, her husband, declares that his mind was a blank, but he'd just as soon have a divorce so that he may marry Bernice Zschernig, because she has more money to support him with."

Nepal—"What do you suppose Elizabeth Anderson is doing with that machine gun? Constance Foberg is kneeling beside her. What do you think they are going to do? Grace Harney is there, too. She is holding a piece of paper."

Rajah—"They're surveying the land that is going to be used for the site of the New Britain Hall of Fame. I see some of the statues that are going to be placed there:

Clarence Dean-World's greatest Shakespearian actor.

Lillian Pezzento-Inventor of the cut-glass fly-swatter.

Helen Sullivan-Related to Columbus, discover of America.

"Tommy' Taksar—Inventor of quiet noises to be used at High School assemblies."

Nepal—"Here comes Christopher Wren. I wonder where he is going? He's boarding a train for Mexico. Now he's changing trains at Titisville. He's reading the returns of the recent election posted on the bulletin.

Truant Officer-Roberta Vose.

Order of Selectmen—Anna Orde, Emily Parker, Alice Tracey. These women are taking the place of Harold Radomski, Newton Clark, and Marshall Davenson, who have completed their term of office."

Rajah—"Who is that on the horse with the big sombero? The President of Mexico, 'Jimmy' Wike. He's waiting for Wren, and then they're going to declare war against the United States. The president's wife, Myrtle Bates, has just come home from a theatre in which Clifford Hills and 'Jerry' Pratt were nearly mobbed for trying to put over that famous Hills and Pratt act. Myrtle is trying to get in touch with Robert E. Lee, the United States General, to tell him about the war."

Nepal—"She and her maid, Helen Halliday, have decided to leave Mexico and escape. Helen Fox, her jealous rival, sees them. She's telling President Wike that they have left, and they are brought back and imprisoned."

Rajah—"General 'Bob' Schuster of Mexico is getting ready to make an attack. The cook in the Wike household, Anna Ryder, had informed the United States of Mexico's attack, and Wike and Wren are captured."

Nepal—"Oh! It's gone, Rajah. I wanted to see what their fate would be. It must be dreadful, since the crystal will not tell us. There's John Kielb. Oh! Allah! He has a knife. He's throwing it at 'Joe' Herman. Why? Find out why, Rajah."

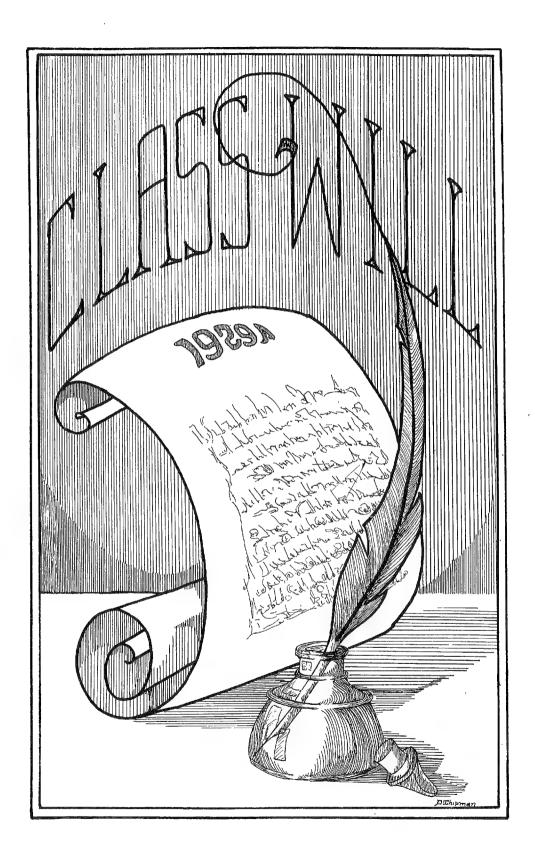

Rajah—"It's nothing at all, Nepal. Kielb and Herman are experimenting with a device they have invented which can be worn under your clothing to prevent knives from penetrating the flesh. It's being made specially for 'Tommy' McGuinness, the Chief of Police in Chicago."

Nepal—"What is this a wedding procession? Who is the blushing bride?"

Rajah—"Why, it is Evelyn Patton. And the young gallant beside her is Roland Lavoie. But I dont' know whether he is the groom or only the best man. They have entered the church."

Nepal—"Look! Rajah, the vision is growing dimmer and dimmer. Now it has gone completely. It will never come back."

GRACE CARNEY, ROY NIELSEN.

CLASS WILL

Setting-The Haunted Ruins of Bulkeley High School 100 years from present time.

Characters—Ghost, two descendants of Class of 1929A.

Scene—Office of Bulkeley; the chairs, desks and other furnishings are covered with dust.

Curtain—Figure enters from left side of the stage with light on face.

IGURE—"I hear somebody prowling about here. I wonder if it is some more of those 1929A spirits? But they will never get the will. It belongs to me. Ha! Ha! Ha!" (Exit to left of the stage without light on face.) (Enter Boy and Girl from right side of the stage.)

Girl-"Oh! I wish I had never come here!"

Boy—"Well, we must find that will. I remember my grandfather's telling me that it was left in the Principal's office. It must be here somewhere in the ruins of 'Old Bulkeley', and we're going to find it."

Girl-"Yes, but I didn't know that these old ruins were haunted by ghosts."

Boy-"Now don't be frightened; there's no such thing as a ghost."

Voice off stage—"Ha! ha! ha!"

Girl—"Who is that laughing at us?"

Boy-"Laughing? I thought it was some one crying."

Girl-"Oh, don't leave me! Don't move an inch."

Boy-"Don't worry. I'm not going to move an inch; I'm going to move two feet."

Girl—"Sh! sh! Is that a ghost?"

Boy-"I don't know, but it looks like one. It has a complete set of arms and legs (walks toward figure). No, that's just a hat rack."

Girl-"Are you sure this is the room where the will is hidden?"

Boy-"No, I'm not even sure of what I had for breakfast!"

Girl—"You go over to the desk and open the drawer."

Boy—"Well, I was never a hero, but I always act like a gentleman. Ladies first."

Girl-"Why, you're not frightened, are you?"

Boy—"No." (Flashlight shakes in his hand—goes wandering off to one side of the stage.)

Girl—"Come here quickly!" (Boy returns to side of girl without flashlight.)

Girl—"Where's the flashlight?"

Boy—"I don't know, but I'll find it." (Lights match and goes looking for lighted flashlight on side of stage.)

Girl—"Oh, go on over to the desk and see if the will is there."

Boy—"You come with me."

Girl-"All right."

(Both go over to the desk. On arriving there, they blow dust from top of desk and open the large drawer.)

Boy—"This reminds me of the time when the animals went into the ark. The ant said to the elephant, 'Hey, who do you think you're pushing?' (pause.) Look! here's the will."

Girl-"Oh! Hurry and read it."

(Takes the will from the drawer, and opens it, then starts to read.)

CHEMISTRY EXAMINATION

Note—Answer any twelve (12) of the following questions in ink (or pencil; if pencil is not available, use typewriter).

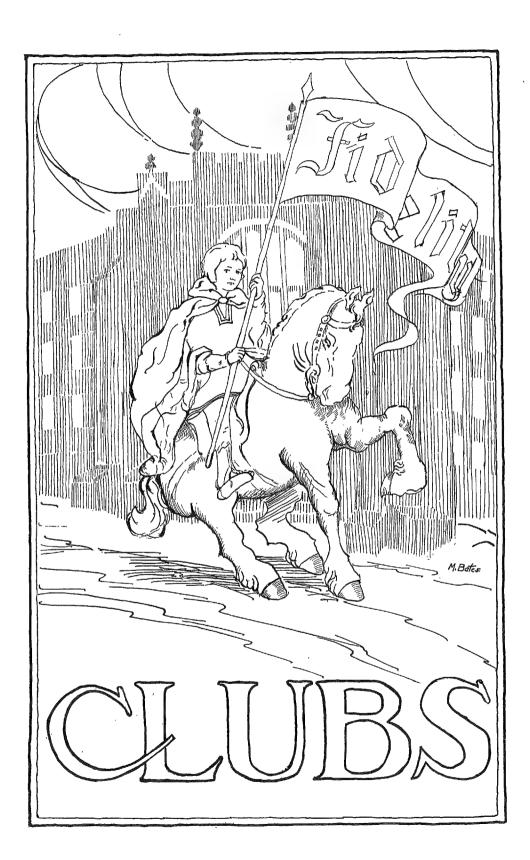

- 1-What is the color of Paris Green? (One paragraph only.)
- 2—What is the formula of Davenson's Hair Oil?
- 3—Write a short paragraph upon recent discoveries of Professor Pyrex von Hon. Erlenmeyer, discoverer of Cliquot Club Ginger Ale, who with great precision determined the difference between a Dewar and a pre-war flask. (One word only.)
- 4—How much Fehling's solution is needed to fill a beaker half full of H<sup>2</sup>O? Why? Give formula.
- 5—Who wrote the opera in which the aria, "Silver Nitrate Among the Gold", is found? During what crisis in African history?
  - 6—How many children are there in the Phosphorous family?
    - (a) Did "Red" Phosphorous marry Ethyl Alcohol or Ann Hydride?
    - (b) Omitted because it is too difficult for you to answer.
  - 7—Name a colorless, odorless, and tasteless gas, stating the color.
- 8—If it requires five (5) drops of carbolic acid to kill a bow-legged cockroach, how many quarts of banana oil is needed to convert a glass of nitric acid into lemonade. (See page 193, paragraph 2, Vanity Fair.)
- 9—In a solution of potash and Perlmutter (potash is KOH, molecular weight 56) using a thermometer, find Perlmutter. (No loitering in elevator shaft allowed.)

Experiment No. 46 (Multiplication Table Experiment)—Refining of a Hard Boiled Egg (in two parts). Using the 2 in 1 Process. Use a fried egg, a poached egg will do, which has been previously stirred with the left foot (experiment will not work with size 12 shoe). Add Scott's Emulsion. If this makes you laugh, it shows the presence of laughing gas. Using an eye-dropper add four (4) gallons of corn syrup. At this stage a white cloud will float off, revealing leather oxide, which obviously came from the shoe. Carry away the leather oxide in an inverted bottle. If the leather oxide leaves its container, experiment is wrong and should be repeated.

(For next lesson we will take chloroform.)
